Other electronics or consumer electronics

Joachim Ulbrich - 2026-10-05 - Bestellung

The purpose of the Employee PC Programme is to promote the information society in the digital age. Only devices that come from the telecommunications sector and are used for the exchange of information and data over a physical distance are among the tax-subsidised devices that can be offered as part of the employee PC programme.