

Device Modification by Third Parties

Joachim Ulbrich - 2024-10-07 - Product support

If the changes to the device are carried out professionally and do not violate the warranty conditions, you can have changes made.

Please note that in the event that equipment is returned after the end of the contract, the leasing company is entitled to re-establish the expected original condition and to charge you for the costs incurred.