

Is it possible to buy the devices?

Joachim Ulbrich - 2024-10-08 - End of contract & acquisition

Yes, they do exist. In principle, the employee is offered the equipment for purchase at the end of the leasing contract. The price is calculated according to the residual value of the equipment, is not tax-privileged and is in the order of approx. 2 to 4 gross monthly instalments.

You only become the owner of the equipment once the residual value has been paid and the 24 months have expired.
