

Who is eligible to participate in the MPP programme?

Joachim Ulbrich - 2024-10-04 - General questions

Your employer determines which employees may participate in the programme and are therefore eligible to order. Please check the intranet or another internal company communication channel to find out which user groups in your company are eligible to participate.

At the start of a new ordering period, your company will provide you with all the important information about how you can participate and whether there are any special requirements when registering.
